

BANKING SYSTEM

Financial Economics Faculty

Year of study: 4th

Credits: 5 ECTS

Practical classes: 180

Obligatory

Lecturers: Senior Lecturer E. Krylova

Purpose: providing future professionals in finance and credit with integrated knowledge about the nature, content, functions and features of the banking system of the country in the modern world.

Objective: To study the historical aspects of creation and development of banking systems, understanding the need of a banking system in the economy; to acquire necessary skills to carry out various types of banking operations, to study banking systems in developed countries.

Subject: theoretical, methodological and methodical bases of banking system functioning in today's developing economies of the world.

Content of the subject is revealed in the topics: The modern banking system of Ukraine. Banking: concepts, process development, function. The reorganization of the banking system of Ukraine. Bank as the main component of financial and credit system. Classification of banks. Organizational and management structure of banks. Essence, basic principles of banking operations and their classification. The establishment, registration and licensing of banks. State regulation of banking institutions. The concept of liquidity of banks and its implications for the stability of the banking system. Bank resources and their formation. Characteristics and sources of bank resource formation, their classification. Bank capital: the nature, structure, functions and values. Characteristics of bank capital funds.

Supporting lectures and practical classes: computer, multimedia equipment, didactic materials.

Assessment: written test, performance of individual tasks, test, lecture and practical modules, examination.

Teaching methods: interactive (thought-provoking) lectures, role plays, case-studies, business simulations

Instructional Support: reference compendium of lectures, teaching materials, tests.

Examination method: written examination

Registration for the course: none.

Registration for the exam: as scheduled.

Language: Ukrainian or Russian.